

Tegaderm Aftercare:

Leave your Tegaderm on for a total of 6 days. You may change the bandage partway through the healing process if the bandage is no longer sealing the tattoo area.

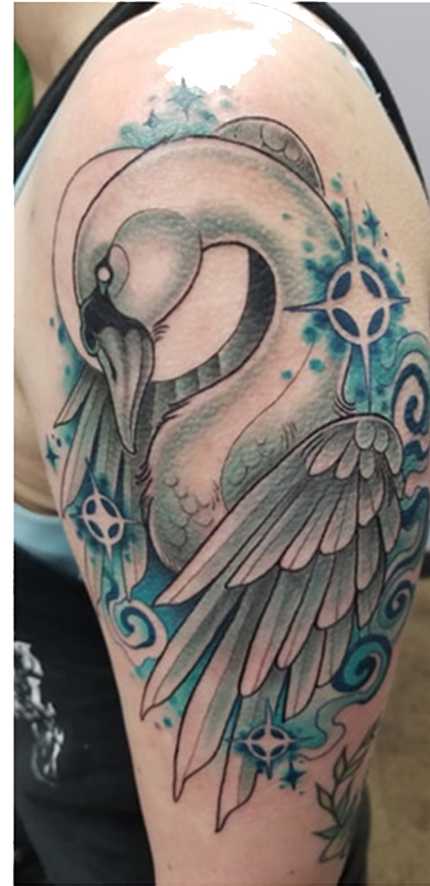

Common Occurrences:

- Blood and plasma build up under the Tegaderm, "Weeping." This is a good thing!
- Leaking out of the edges of the bandage.
- Peeling at the edges of the bandage.
- So much "weeping" that you can no longer see the tattoo (see picture).

How to Change Your Bandage:

1. Wash your hands thoroughly.
2. Slowly remove the bandage; warm water will help with this.
3. Wash the tattoo area thoroughly with warm water and soap.
4. Rinse the tattoo with warm water.
5. Pat the area dry with a paper towel (do not use a regular towel).
6. Allow the area to air dry for 3-5 minutes.
7. Replace the bandage with a fresh piece of Tegaderm.
